SRZ Special Counsel for Pro Bono Initiatives Sara Solfanelli Quoted in The Independent

June 1, 2023

Marking the 102nd anniversary of the Tulsa Race Massacre, Schulte Roth & Zabel's pro bono team continues to advocate for the remaining survivors. Sara Solfanelli, Special Counsel for Pro Bono Initiatives, spoke to the firm's ongoing litigation efforts as the survivors await a critical court decision.

"Despite the indisputable facts about the Tulsa race massacre and the ongoing generational damage that it caused, there has not been any constructive, tangible action taken to address and repair its catastrophic harm. There is a path to justice through the legal system and this lawsuit, and it's a real opportunity for the survivors to see that justice in their lifetimes."
